UNT applicants should take entrance exams at least two months before admission deadline date. See high school counselor for information. The SAT I score requirements shown in Undergraduate Admission Requirements chart reflect the April 1, 1995, recentering of the SAT I by The College Board.

The State of Texas requires, through the Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP), that all undergraduate students take a test over reading, writing and mathematical skills prior to enrolling in any college-level course work at Texas public institutions, unless they meet the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board exemptions in accordance with Texas law (Texas Education Code, Section 501.306). For additional TASP information, see “Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP)” in the Academics section of this catalog. The TASP test cannot be used in admissions decisions at UNT, but is necessary for adequate preregistration advising.

A transient student is an undergraduate student (U.S. citizen or resident alien only) who enrolls at UNT for one long semester only (fall or spring). A summer visiting student is an undergraduate student (U.S. citizen or resident alien only) who enrolls at UNT for either or both summer terms with the intent of returning to the home institution upon completion of summer studies. To remain at UNT after the first semester, a transient student must meet all normal admission requirements. Because of federal laws and immigration requirements, international students are not eligible to enroll at UNT as transient students.

A former student is one who has not attended UNT during at least one of the last four consecutive semesters immediately preceding the intended semester of enrollment. Continuing students (those enrolled at UNT during one of the past four consecutive semesters with the exception of summer visiting students) are not required to reapply. Students who have taken correspondence or extension courses must reapply for admission as former students.

Pursuant to Subchapter S, Chapter 51, Texas Education Code, all state universities that do not have open admissions for undergraduates are required to revise their admission policies for new freshmen, effective with the 1998 fall semester. Students who do not meet the requirements for automatic or regular admission should refer to the section titled “Admission by Individual Review” for more information.

Transfer Students

A transfer student is defined as any student new to UNT who has ever been enrolled at another college or university prior to attendance at UNT. UNT evaluates credit only from generally recognized accredited academic institutions. Applicants must submit records of all accredited institutions attended, even if they do not wish to transfer the credit to UNT.

Transfer students with fewer than 30 transferable semester hours of college work must meet the entrance requirements listed above for high school graduates, have a minimum 2.5 grade point average (4.0 grading system) and be eligible to return to any institution attended.

Transfer students with no less than 30 and no more than 44 transferable semester hours must:
1. have a minimum GPA of 2.25 on a 4.0 grading system;
2. submit application for admission; and
3. provide an official transcript from each college or university attended.

Transfer students with more than 44 hours of college work must:
1. have a minimum GPA of 2.0 on a 4.0 grading system;
2. submit application for admission; and
3. provide an official transcript from each college or university attended.

The admissions office determines acceptable transfer credit from other institutions. The student’s academic dean determines applicability of the credit to a degree program.

The admissions office provides, along with the acceptance notification letter, a copy of the evaluated official transcript(s) from the other institution(s) of higher education. This evaluation of course credit reflects accepted transfer credit as well as credit that has not been accepted in transfer.

If UNT does not accept lower-division course credit earned by a student at another institution of higher education, UNT shall give written notice to the student and the other institution that the transfer of the course credit is denied.

The two institutions and the student shall attempt to resolve the transfer of the course credit in accordance with Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board rules and/or guidelines. If the transfer dispute is not resolved to the satisfaction of the student or the institution at which the credit was earned within 45 days after the date the student receives written notice of the denial, UNT shall notify the commissioner of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board of its denial and the reason for the denial.

The commissioner of higher education or the commissioner’s designee shall make the final determination about a dispute concerning the transfer of course credit and give written notice of the determination to the involved student and institutions.
