Introduction

The program in kinesiology offers a complete curriculum that prepares students for a variety of careers in the public and private sectors and in teaching. Degrees include Bachelor of Science and Master of Science with a major in kinesiology. A teacher certification program is available, which is a standard all-level certificate in physical education (kinesiology) at the bachelor’s level.

Programs of Study

Kinesiology offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the following areas:
• Bachelor of Science, and
• Master of Science, both with a major in kinesiology.

Bachelor of Science with a Major in Kinesiology

Degree Requirements

1. Hours Required and General/College of Education Requirements: A minimum of 124 semester hours (137 semester hours for those seeking all-level teacher certification), of which 42 must be advanced, and fulfillment of degree requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree as specified in the “General University Requirements” in the Academics section of this catalog and the College of Education requirements.

2. Major Requirements:

All kinesiology majors: BIOL 2301/2311, 2302/2312, COMM 1010, ENGL 2210 or 2220 and PHED 1000.

Theory Core, 24 hours:

6. Other Requirements:

- 12 hours of KINE must be taken at UNT.
- 42 hours must be advanced; 24 of which must be taken at UNT.
- 6 hours minimum of minor must be advanced.

To be admitted to teacher education, students must have:

- completed 60 semester hours, including all general education requirements, with at least a 2.75 GPA
  - in all UNT work attempted, and
  - overall. The overall GPA includes all course work transferred plus that taken at UNT;
- passed the THEA test (with scores of 240 reading, 230 math and 220 writing; contact the Student Advising Office in Matthews Hall, Room 105, for further information on the THEA requirements); and
- submitted a completed application for admission to the teacher education program (available in the Student Advising Office, Matthews Hall, Room 105) prior to enrolling in the first education course.

Completion. To receive final approval for teacher certification, students must have:

- fulfilled all requirements of an approved 137-hour degree plan;
- received a grade of C or better for each kinesiology course and each PHED course;
- obtained a 2.75 GPA in each of the following areas: each teaching field, all education courses, all UNT work, and overall;
- successfully completed student teaching (see Eligibility for Teacher Certification requirements listed in the Department of Teacher Education and Administration in this catalog for details); and
- passed appropriate sections of the Examination for the Certification of Educators in Texas (ExCET)/Texas Examinations of Educator Standards (TExES).

Students should visit the Student Advising Office in Matthews Hall, Room 105 for additional information regarding degree plans. Questions about student teaching and/or the ExCET/TExES exam should be addressed to the TExES Advising Office in Matthews Hall, Room 103 [(940) 369-8601].

Students are encouraged to see their academic or faculty adviser each term/semester for help with program decisions and enrollment.

Minor in Kinesiology

The requirements for a minor in kinesiology are 21 hours, including 15 hours selected from KINE 2000, 2030, 2050, 3020, 3050 (prerequisite: BIOL 2302/2312 or consent of instructor), 3080 (prerequisites: BIOL 2301/2311 and 2302/2312 or consent of instructor), 3090, 4000 and 4050 (prerequisite: MATH 1100 or consent of instructor) plus 6 additional hours selected from any KINE courses. Six hours must be advanced. A minimum grade of C is required in each course in the minor.

Teacher Certification

Students should refer to the sections on “Teacher Certification,” “Teaching Certificates” and “Student Teaching” in the College of Education general information pages of this catalog for necessary requirements to qualify for recommendation for a Texas teaching certificate.

Degree Plan

The degree plan is the official document outlining the student's course of study. The student is responsible for initiating the degree plan process and should do so as soon as possible after being formally enrolled at the university.

Career advising should be sought in the departmental office, Physical Education Building, Room 209. The student, with advisement, makes decisions relating to the program of study. The degree plan is subsequently prepared in the College of Education Student Advising Office in Matthews Hall, Room 105. Students should have their degree plans... updated the term/semester before graduation in Matthews Hall, Room 105.

Graduate Degrees

The department offers the Master of Science degree with a major in kinesiology. Both thesis and non-thesis options are available. For further information, consult the Graduate Catalog.

Scholarships

The Irma Caton, John Douthitt Memorial, Corinne and David Hill, Morrow Family, and Peggy Richardson scholarships are awarded annually to a kinesiology major. The Eurice Miller Bass, Paramount Pictures KHPD and Delta Psi Kappa Beulah A. Harriss scholarships also are available. Information and applications are available in the departmental office, Physical Education Building, Room 209, and on the departmental web site (www.coe.unt.edu/khpr).

Introduction

This program offers courses for students seeking knowledge about their health along with methods by which to live a healthy lifestyle. In addition, courses are offered for students majoring in health promotion who have career goals in school or community health. The major in health promotion with a career option in community health promotion is designed to prepare students for professional careers in a variety of community health agencies, as well as in local, state and national government health agencies. This track does not lead to teacher certification. The major in health promotion with a career option in school health promotion is a course of study that leads to an All-Level (K–12) teacher certification.

Programs of Study

Health Promotion offers an undergraduate program in the following area:

- Bachelor of Science with a major in health promotion.

Bachelor of Science with a Major in Health Promotion

All-level certification in Health Promotion has been approved by the State Board for Educator Certification. Students should consult their adviser in the Student Advising Office, Matthews Hall, Room 105, for the most current information.

Introduction

The program’s primary goals are the professional preparation of undergraduate and graduate students, research into the phenomena of leisure, development of new techniques for professional practice, community and professional service, continuing education, scholarly publications, and technical assistance.

The program in recreation and leisure studies leading to the Bachelor of Science degree prepares students for careers in three interest areas: program management, therapeutic recreation and sport management. The undergraduate program emphasizes the study of leisure and the preparation of students for management and leadership positions in a variety of agency settings.

Career opportunities for program graduates include federal, state and local government park and recreation agencies; intramural, youth, community, intercollegiate and professional sport management agencies; commercial recreation agencies; corporate employee, campus and military recreation operations; hospital and other health care settings; and community-based therapeutic recreation operations.

Programs of Study

Recreation and Leisure Studies offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the following areas:

- Bachelor of Science, and
- Master of Science, both with a major in recreation and leisure studies.

Bachelor of Science with a Major in Recreation and Leisure Studies

- competency demonstrated through current certification in Standard First Aid and CPR, and lifeguarding or water safety instruction, or a comparable alternative certification; and
- departmental permission to enroll in the course.

The internship is a full-time (i.e., 40 hours per week) affiliation with an approved agency. It is usually taken during the last term/semester.

Notes:
1 Required for Therapeutic Recreation Interest Area.
2 Required for Program Management Interest Area.
3 Required for Sport Management Interest Area.

Students are encouraged to see their academic or faculty adviser and the department degree plan adviser each term/semester for help with program decisions and enrollment.

Minor in Recreation and Leisure Studies

Students minoring in recreation and leisure studies are required to take 6 hours of major courses: RECR 2550 and 3050; and the 12 hours from the appropriate career interest sequence: either RECR 1950, 2150, 4050 and 4180 or RECR 3450, 3500, 4560 and 4760 upon consultation with the program coordinator. A minimum grade of C is required in each course in the minor.

Degree Plan

The degree plan is the official document outlining the student’s course of study. The student is responsible for initiating the degree plan process and should do so as soon as possible after being formally enrolled at the university.

Advising should be sought in the departmental office. The student, with advisement, makes decisions related to the program of study. The degree plan is subsequently prepared in the College of Education Student Advising Office in Matthews Hall, Room 105. Students should have their degree plans updated the term/semester before their internship in Matthews Hall, Room 105.

Graduate Degrees

The program offers a Master of Science degree with a major in recreation and leisure studies with two interest areas: program management and therapeutic recreation. Both thesis and non-thesis options are available. Consult the Graduate Catalog for information.

Scholarships

The Don C. Bailey, Sue Delmark, Marian C. Keller, Rita Pilkey and Julia Wakeley Scholarships are awarded annually on a competitive basis to undergraduate and graduate majors in the program. The Paramount Pictures KHPR and Delta Psi Kappa Beulah A. Harriss scholarships also are available. Information and applications are available in the departmental office and on the departmental web site (www.coe.unt.edu/khpr).
